Pilbara Community
Legal Service Inc.

Chief Executive Officer

Pilbara Community Legal Service currently has an exciting opportunity for a Chief Executive Officer to lead its team. The role can be based in Karratha or Hedland

Pilbara Community Legal Service (PCLS) is a not-for-profit organisation that improves quality of life in the Pilbara through legal information, advice, education and representation.

PCLS places particular emphasis on the indigenous community, legislative requirements, cultural diversity, and best practice. With offices in Karratha, Port Hedland, Roebourne and Newman, and servicing the broader region, PCLS services include, legal services, redress support, domestic violence victim support and advocacy, tenancy support and advocacy, financial counselling, and migrant settlement services

- Reporting to the Board, you will ensure that the Vision, Mission and Values of PCLS are put into practice; motivating and leading the team in a high-performance culture. This will include ensuring professional standards, legislative requirements and business objectives are communicated, understood, and achieved at all times.

- As the new CEO, it is essential you have achieved in a senior management and leadership role. You will have proven strategic thinking, negotiation, and planning skills along with strong financial and political acumen. High calibre communication and interpersonal skills are a must, including the ability to build & maintain effective relationships with culturally and socially diverse stakeholders and customers.

- This position will require a 'hands on' approach. As such, you will need to understand, and be involved in, all aspects of PCLS services. The ability to translate broad strategic directions into practical activities is essential.

- As this role is responsible for the performance of PCLS across the Pilbara, frequently planned road travel and work out of standard business hours is expected.

This role comes with a competitive salary, generous leave and a company vehicle.
